

The products

The CleanWater kit provides a solution for simple and highly effective water purification. The kit is light weight, compact for transportation and easy to assemble at the point of use, providing clean water from virtually any freshwater source within minutes.

How it works

The British Berkefeld® ceramic filter used in our CleanWater purification kits are impregnated with colloidal silver, which coupled with the filter's ability to remove all particles and suspensions down to 0.9 microns, results in the removal of 99.99% of harmful bacteria and cysts. (Further information available from <http://www.cleanwaterkits.com>).

CleanWater was birthed in 2006 from a project in East Africa called "Life Water". The challenge was simple: to discover how we could provide clean and safe drinking water to families, schools and local communities at the point of use. This was achieved through the design and development of the CleanWater system using well-proven British Berkefeld ceramic filters.

"simple and highly effective water purification kits"

Christian Hope International, in line with many other UK charities, is promoting the distribution of these excellent kits in our areas of work. We would like to purchase at least 150 kits to help poor families obtain clean drinking water. The kits will be sent out on a container in the summer of 2010.
